

MARYLAND UNIVERSITY OF INTEGRATIVE HEALTH

Scholarship Fund

At a Glance:

Maryland University of Integrative Health seeks to provide more scholarship opportunities for current and prospective students. As the cost of higher education tuition continues to soar and federal financial aid has become limited, the ability to provide meaningful scholarships is ever more important. MUIH must develop an increasingly robust scholarship program in order to attract and retain bright and dedicated students who, without assistance, could not realize their dreams of being a healer.

Contributions to this fund will:

- Provide scholarships for every academic program to attract new students and support current students
- Ensure that economic resources are not a barrier for qualified candidates to pursue their education goals

Funding: $25 million over the next five years

Attracting Qualified Students in Economically Challenging Times

In 2009, Maryland University of Integrative Health decided to embark upon an ambitious plan to significantly expand academic offerings, attract and retain the best and most talented faculty, and achieve university status. By the end of 2013, we had achieved each of these goals. In just four years, our academic programming has grown from four degree and certificate programs to 18, and enrollment has nearly doubled to 800 graduate students. Also in 2013, we earned university status, making MUIH the only regionally-accredited university on the East Coast exclusively dedicated to integrative health and natural wellness.

As we look to 2015 and beyond, we have plans to build on our success, continue to expand our academic offerings, and increase our graduate student enrollment. We know the marketplace is primed for our programs and potential students are eager to enter into the pioneering field of integrative health. While MUIH does its part to keep tuition costs as low as possible, it is still challenging for many students to consider or continue graduate degrees, especially in the aftermath of one of the most serious economic downturns of all time. While student loans are a viable option, the uncertainty of the economy and the burden of debt can be a deterrent to further education.

The need for highly qualified leaders in integrative health to address the nation's healthcare challenges is clear and MUIH is positioned to meet this need. We have the programs and faculty to attract qualified students but now must provide a means to offset the cost of an MUIH education.

Join Us

Please join us in providing significant scholarship opportunities for ambitious and passionate future integrative health leaders. Help us to deliver on our promises to heal in a more expansive, inclusive way.

7750 Montpelier Road
Laurel, Maryland 20723
410-888-9048

www.muuh.edu

Maryland University of Integrative Health is one of the nation's only accredited graduate schools with an academic and clinical focus on health and wellness.